BAGNARA: PIONEERING EXCELLENCE IN NATURAL STONE

*Day by day we are aware of the immense gift of nature and appreciate its uniqueness.
Every natural stone is unique and unrepeatable, shaped over millions of years.
It is in the matter that we find the motivation and inspiration to create*

Nikolaus Bagnara is an internationally leading Italian company in the production, distribution and processing of stone materials.

It was founded in 1948 as a marble processing workshop by Nikolaus Bagnara. In 1961 he acquired the first porphyry quarry and in 1977 his son Bruno took over from his father, beginning a process of expansion, trading between Verona, Austria, Switzerland and Germany. From slabs, growth moved on to the block trade, and then to the acquisition of the first quarries still managed by Bagnara. The passion for natural stone is the driving force for Bruno, who also includes his sons Philipp and Niko in the company, who took over the business in 2017. Today, Nikolaus Bagnara Spa combines 75 years of tradition with a global presence. From its artisanal origins in the small setting of a stonemason's workshop, the company has become internationally known and has been able to understand changes and market needs over the course of three generations.

From a technical point of view, Bagnara offers services encompassing the entire process, from quarrying and processing to the creation of customised architectural solutions, thanks to the cutting-edge facilities. The product varieties of over 950 unique stones give the possibility of revealing the geological diversity of some of the world's most beautiful regions by collaborating with professionals, architects and designers who are able to convey the family's passion for natural stone into artistic, architectural and design solutions. The direct management of quarries, such as Nero Assoluto Zimbabwe, Silver Cloud in the United States and Azul Aran in Spain, together with strategic partnerships with manufacturers, allow the company to guarantee an exclusive supply of more than 30 premium materials.

With its global presence, Bagnara sets industry benchmarks, and remains firmly committed to natural stone and environmental impact, honing skills to accompany sensitivity and respect for nature.

BAGNARA BOOTH, B3 Hall 6 XPERIENCE ENDLESS BEAUTY

Natural stone – practical, inspiring, and innovative

At Marmomac 2025, Bagnara presents a hands-on showcase of new materials, surface finishes, and application examples. Building on the stand concept introduced in 2024, the company unveils a variety of natural stones in fresh combinations and design approaches - from raw materials with character to refined interior details.

Highlights at the fair

Among the highlights are the new Fratture collection and the immersive Corridor of Bloom installation, first presented at the Fuorisalone in Milan. These projects demonstrate how natural stone, combined with brass, iron, wood, and glass, can open up entirely new possibilities in design and architecture.

Green Galaxy* – A quartzite with bold character

A standout feature of the exhibition is Green Galaxy, a new quartzite from Brazil. Its deep green color, vivid veining, and durability make it an ideal choice for demanding applications, both indoors and outdoors.
